Inference

Smokejumpers demonstrate that they are adaptive.

Evidence

After getting trapped, the text states that their first thought was to move to “safety” in a “burned-out section.”

Evidence

The text also states that they “soaked” their shirts and “wrapped (them) around their heads” for added “protection.”

Explanation

These details show that smokejumpers must be able to adapt as a result of the unexpected and the unpredictable nature of their job.
