

Utilize the three types of instruction.

Whole-Class Mini-lessons

1 Whole-class mini-lessons follow a scope & sequence of core curriculum.

Provide direct instruction with teacher modeling.

Initiate instruction efficiently and equitably.

2 Teacher-led small group differentiate instruction.

Allow students to try the skill with the support of someone nearby.

Focus on specific skill needs and intensify instruction.

Accelerate learning for high-performing students.

Improve students' responses to initial instruction.

3 Literacy stations allow independent practice.

Give students opportunities for repeated practice of skills previously taught.

Reinforce skills & strategies that have already been explicitly taught.

Keep students actively, yet academically, engaged and motivated.

Launch the Reading Block,
Kristi McCullough

