

A black flag with a white pole is shown against a white background. The flag is wavy and contains white text. The text reads: "The main character has a problem with something." The word "something" is in a larger, bold font.

The main character
has a problem
with something.